

I FOUND A BABY BIRD. NOW WHAT?

HOW TO RESCUE BABY BIRDS

Note: Only adults should rescue baby birds. Before rescuing adult birds, seek guidance from a wildlife rehabilitator.

1. Prepare a container. Place a clean, soft cloth with no strings or loops on the bottom of a cardboard box or cat/dog carrier with a lid. If it doesn't have air holes, make some. For smaller birds you can use a paper sack with air holes.
2. Protect yourself. Wear gloves, if possible. Some birds may stab with their beaks, slice with their talons (claws) and slap with their wings to protect themselves, even if sick. Birds commonly have parasites (fleas, lice, ticks) and carry diseases.
3. Cover the bird with a light sheet or towel.
4. Gently pick up the bird and put it in the prepared container.
5. Warm the animal if it's cold out or if the animal is chilled. Put one end of the container on a heating pad set on low, or fill a zip-top plastic bag, plastic soft drink container with a screw lid, or a rubber glove with hot water. Wrap warm container with cloth and put it next to the animal. Make sure the container doesn't leak or the animal will get wet and chilled.
6. Tape the box shut or roll the top of the paper bag closed.
7. Note exactly where you found the bird. This will be very important for release!
8. Keep the bird in a warm, dark, quiet place.
 - a. Do not give it food or water
 - b. Leave the bird alone. Don't handle or bother it.
 - c. Keep children and pets away.
9. Contact a wildlife rehabilitator, state wildlife agency or wildlife veterinarian as soon as possible.
 - a. Don't keep the bird at your home longer than necessary.
 - b. Keep the bird in a container. Don't let it loose in your house or car.
10. Wash your hands after contact with the bird. Wash anything the bird was in contact with – towel, jacket, blanket, pet carrier – to prevent the spread of diseases and/or parasites to you or your pets.
11. Get the bird to a wildlife rehabilitator as soon as possible.

It is against the law in most states to keep wild animals if you don't have permits, even if you plan to release them!
